Jessyca's suggestions for preparing for any job:

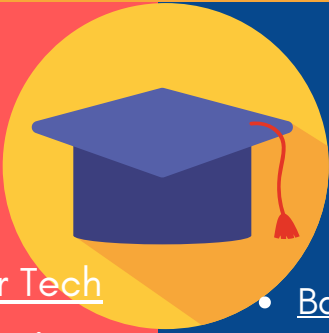

Learn everything you can, even if it doesn't seem related. Don't settle for a career you don't vibe with but that makes you big bucks; you'll never stick with it.

Talk to people, ask questions. Do not, I repeat, DO NOT feel like you are not qualified. Always speak up and take initiative if you feel like you can. Start to volunteer occasionally (you don't have to overdo it) and the more variety of experiences you have, the better. And finally, relax and learn to appreciate what's really important in life. Learn to unwind and reduce your stress in healthy ways.
